Governor Challenges Senator McCrory For Joint Discussion.

THE GOVERNOR'S LETTER.

"Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 21, 1906.
Hon. James B. McCreary, Richmond, Ky.

"My Dear Sir:—I notice in the papers of this morning what purports to be an authorized statement from your speech at Mt. Sterling yesterday, in which you publicly ask me a question. This published extract bears the evidences of authenticity, and for that reason I address you this letter. I quote a part of what you say:

"I have never asked or received pecuniary aid from the whisky interests in the present race for United States Senator, nor in any race I have made for office in the past. I would like to know if Governor Beckham can say the same."

"You can rest assured that I shall cheerfully answer that or any other question which you may wish to propound to me in this campaign in a prompt and straightforward manner, but I am strongly of the opinion that any such long range discussion about such matters through the newspapers would be unsatisfactory and that we could ask and answer such questions in a better way.

PROPOSED JOINT DEBATE.

"I therefore propose to you that if you wish me to answer this or any other question, and that you may have the opportunity of answering any question that I might ask you, we arrange for a series of joint discussions before the people of Kentucky at such places as you and I may agree upon. I am confident that with such an arrangement our positions upon the many important issues in this campaign could be more clearly and satisfactorily explained to the Democracy of Kentucky. I suggest, therefore, that either you or I, or a representative of each of us, shall meet and arrange for the date of such joint discussion, provided the proposition meets with your approval.

"With the assurances of great respect, I am
"Very truly yours,
"J. C. W. Beckham."

McCreary Accepts Governor Beckham Offer To Debate Issues.

Senator James B. McCreary has accepted the challenge of Governor Beckham to a series of joint debates in their contest for the Senatorship.

Senator McCreary, in a letter written to the Governor says that he will be prepared to meet the Governor and arrange for such joint discussions as they may mutually agree upon.

The Senator says he desires that the people of the State be given "the fullest opportunity to become acquainted with the issues involved in the present campaign." Senator McCreary's letter is as follows:

"Richmond, Ky., Aug. 22, '06.
"Governor J. C. W. Beckham,

"Frankfort, Ky.

"Dear Sir:—Your letter of Aug. 21 was received this afternoon. You refer to my answer made in my speech at Mt. Sterling last Monday to a statement made by you in your speech at Lexington, Ky., which was as follows:

"I have never asked or received pecuniary aid from the whisky interests in the present race for United States Senator nor in any race I have made for office in the past. I would like to know if Governor Beckham can say the same?"

"You say that you can cheerfully answer that question and suggest that in order that we may have an opportunity of answering any questions that might be asked, we arrange for a series of joint discussions at such places as you and I may agree.

"It will afford me pleasure to meet you at any convenient time or place for the purpose of arranging such joint discussions as we may agree upon. I desire that the people of Kentucky shall have the fullest opportunity to become acquainted with the issues involved in the present campaign.

"Respectfully,
"James B. McCreary."

GOVERNOR BECKHAM.

Governor Beckham has taken a position on the side of Law and Order that no other Governor of Kentucky has heretofore done, and every law-abiding citizen, every church member and every good woman who loves the welfare of their Old Kentucky Home should seek an opportunity to give him a hearty welcome. One thing that has always weakened the side of morality and the chances with public officials is that they do not rally to the support of officials who take up their cause, while on the other hand the opposition will rally almost as a unit to defeat any candidate who takes a position against them. If the Christian people of this country would wake up to a realization of this fact and would give our public officials to understand that if they stand for law and order, morality and Christianity in their public life that as they are a unit with them and will support them on election day but if they do not stand for these grand principles that they as a unit will stand against them and will not support them on election day. If this play was adopted by the Christian people of our country it would only be a short time until we could have pure and God-like men in all public places and it would be an incentive to our young men to live right and to be better men, but so long as some church members walk to the polls on election day and vote with the opposition to defeat good and pure Christian men, just so long will the agents of sin abroad in the land, Governor Beckham has responded to the appeal of the ministry and the law-abiding citizens of the greatest city in our State and has given them his aid and support in putting on the lid in that city, knowing when he did it that he would array a powerful influence, with money to burn, against him in his race for the United States Senate, but he did it because he felt that it was right and he did it without fear of punishment or hope of reward, and it is now up to the good people of this country to say whether or not they endorse his course. If they endorse law and order they should stand by him in this fight. The law abiding citizens of our State and country should not forget the splendid achievement of our Governor in redeeming the fair name of our State and restoring law and order where chaos and revolution reigned at the time of his accession to office. They should not forget the remarkable and material development of the State since he assumed charge and the era of peace that has reigned during his administration. We thank God that peace is once more our heritage in Kentucky and that the blue sky looks down upon a united and happy people, but we should not forget that there are battles being waged today that do not wear the forehead but they are battles in which every true man should show himself to be a warrior, worthy the companionship of Governor Beckham. In these battles right living and right thinking should be our weapons waged in the interest of pure laws, better customs and a higher type of Christian civilization. is an opportunity for the manifestation of these great principles in the present fight for United States Senator in Kentucky. Vote for Beckham and you will vote for these great and grand principles.—Madisonville Journal.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE TO CONTEST DECISION

Question to Be Fought Out on A Case to Come Up
From Mt. Sterling.

If Case is Lost, Amendment to Constitution Will be Asked.

Following the action of County Judge A. A. Hagerigg declaring the County Unit Law unconstitutional, President M. B. Adams, of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League issued a card to the temperance advocates of the State, advising them that the fight for the new law will be made throughout all the courts of the State. President Adams made a vigorous fight for the passage of the act before the Legislature, and received opinions from many of the most noted legal lights in the Senate at that time that it fully complied with every provision of the Constitution. His card is as follows:

To the temperance people of the State:

The president of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League desires to say that the question of the constitutionality of the County Unit Law will be fought out on a case that will come up from Mt. Sterling at once.

The County Unit Law forbids precinct elections to be held separately on the same day as an election for the entire city of which the precinct is a part. The temperance people of Mt. Sterling presented a petition in due form to the Judge of Montgomery county asking for an election for the city of Mt. Sterling as a whole. The saloon interests presented four petitions asking for four separate elections in the four precincts of Mt. Sterling on the same day as the city election. This the law distinctly forbids. But the County Judge held the County Unit law unconstitutional and void and ordered the precinct elections as the saloon interests desired. This brings the issue squarely and it will be fought out from the Montgomery Circuit Court to the Court of Appeals. We are entirely confident of winning the case. We knew, of course, that the legal fight must come and are glad that it has come so soon and upon so well defined an issue. Should the case be lost, which we do not expect, our next move will be an amendment to the State Constitution. The ablest legal counsel will be employed to defend our law.

In the meantime, let the local fights go on with reduced vigor as if this question had not been raised. Your legal rights will be taken care of and the contests can proceed with the utmost confidence.

M. B. Adams, President,
Kentucky Anti-Saloon League.
[Judge Hagerigg also ordered election at same time on petition presented by the temperance people. Ed.]

SPRING CATERERS

W. S. Lloyd Sells Hyomei Under Guarantee of Cure.

The changeable weather of Spring is directly responsible for the prevalence of catarrhal troubles in Mt. Sterling at the present time.

As a result, W. S. Lloyd has had a larger sale for Hyomei the past week than ever before in the years that he has handled this reliable treatment for the cure of catarrh.

If there is a single catarrhal germ in the system, Hyomei will search it out and absolutely destroy it, completely eradicating the trouble. The remedy has made so many cures among W. S. Lloyd's customers that he offers to pay for himself if it does not benefit even the worst case of catarrh.

The complete outfit costs only $1, consisting of an inhaler, medicine dropper, and bottle of Hyomei, while extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. These will not be even this small expense if Hyomei does not cure, as W. S. Lloyd will return your money.

Zimed For Violating Sunday Closing Law.

Alderman John Scott, of Lexington, was fined $50 and costs in the Police Court on the charge of violating the Sunday closing ordinance. The imposing of the fine is the second step taken by the city officials to punish Scott for the alleged offense. Thomas A. Combe revoked the old license owned by Scott and he was compelled to take out a new one in order to conduct his business. Neither Scott or his attorney appeared in court, so the judgment went by default. It has already cost him nearly $150, besides the attorney's fees.

RESULTS OF A "DRY" CITY.

FROM A SALOON KEEPER.

I sold wet goods for twenty years: I am now selling dry goods and I am much better pleased with my new occupation. From a moral standpoint I am quite sure the town is much better.

TESTIMONY OF A PHYSICIAN.

Local option is good—good for all the people, good for their health and happiness. Some of these fellows who never did pay a doctor's bill will pay them now. I am for local option teeth and tails.

W. E. Rodman, M. D.

Come nearer home and what do we find? Owingsville citizens and business men tell you that business in every department is better under local option than with the open saloon. Call up any business man you wish and our word for it business is better.

What about Morehead? Did she have a wholesale house during the open saloon period? This wholesale grocery is worth more in dollars and cents to Morehead than all the saloons she ever had.

What do the manufacturers of our great metropolis say? Listen! Before the "dry" went on a few more Louisville had dry Sunday, many of our men returned to work. Many a fit for service and without a dollar in their pocket, got out to work. They have now all the work and are laying something aside.

What about the "dry" in Morehead? Did she have a wholesale house during the open saloon period? This wholesale grocery is worth more in dollars and cents to Morehead than all the saloons she ever had.

At the Preachers' Conference in Louisville Governor Beckman was endorsed for helping to pass the County Unit Bill and for putting the "dry" on in Louisville. As the good people endorse so will they vote.

WHY THE COUNTRY IS INTERESTED.

Country boys come to our city—they ought to. We want them. Mt. Sterling is the country's same as it is ours and just the same as the county where they live is theirs, so it is ours. We are one in county and city and should be together on every elevating interest and likewise together in the opposition to everything hurtful and destructive to young manhood. The saloon's business is made successful by the people who have money, generally the boys with the small amounts make the great aggregates, and when the country boys' pockets are empty they have become the victims of the drink habit, are moral and physical wrecks, unfitted for heaven and mothers' and sisters' home. Yes, the country people are against the open saloon in Mt. Sterling because they love their boys, want others to regard them highly and are deeply interested in their eternal future.

YOU CAN'TS.

It would seem that some business men have only the saloon keepers and saloon influence on their side, for the reasons some of them assign for not working for the overthrow of the saloon business in Mt. Sterling. Have these same men any customers who oppose the open saloon?

Would it not be well for all men thus actuated to consult their ledgers, and see how the balance stands on the side of the saloon or on the side of local option?

THE CHILD'S HUNGER IS DUE TO MY HAND-
SOME BANK ACCT.

A saloon man of high standing in his business while standing to his bank where he keeps an account, in answer to the question, Where did you get that large roll of money, said: "Many a cold goes hungry, that I may have this enough."

And yet the people would make children hungry by giving me the liberty to do about business.

The greatest entered into between the two candidates for United States Senator is really coming on. It precludes any reason for a man to make a stand for or against interpretation. The people have a right to know the meaning and scope of the candidates, and to know them correctly.

GATES OPEN

Cincinnati's Big Fall Festival Inaugurated.

And Thousands Are Traveling to The Ohio Metropolis.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 29.—All roads now lead to Cincinnati. The Fall Festival, which has opened so gloriously here, is the first big exposition since the late St. Louis World's Fair. It is this city's fifth and finest. The magnificent permanent buildings dedicated to exhibitions during the busy era of Cincinnati's annual industrial shows are crowded with exhibits of every kind. The new building in Washington Park connected with Music Hall by a bridge across Elm street, is a composite "Pine" and "Midway" brought right up to date.

Thousands of strangers have already planned to visit Cincinnati during the days of her autumn glory, and the invitation to the broad, breezy, sunny, and welcome as delightfully warm as the breath of an Indian summer day.

Cincinnati's best business blood is behind the scenes, and the autumnal festivals given "for the glory and honor of Cincinnati." The fame of the Queen City's hospitality extends beyond the State line, and the men and women on her best bib and tucker to entertain throngs of visitors.

"The first American production of "The Blue Moon"—a musical spectacle transplanted by the Shuberts from London—proves an event of tremendous interest to the public. It was staged in Music Hall through the courtesy of Heuck's Opera House Company, of Cincinnati. O., managers of the Lyric Theater. Pretty girls catch music, gaiety, and colour, and in brilliant costumes and bright comedy make up a stage picture of wondrous worth. "The Blue Moon" runs at noon, and will make a new amusement record for Cincinnati.

"Fighting the Flame" occupies a whole city block on the banks of the Ohio, back of the Exposition buildings. Realistic scenes of fire-fighters, ladder scaling, life-net jumping, rescue work and quick coupling stir all the red blood in one's veins.

"The most tragic of all the tragedies in the Nation's history is recalled in "The Johnston Flood," which is reproduced with wonderful electrical effects. Jim Jim is the editor of a row of attractions in "The Circle." "In the Shadow of the Cross" is a new vision of the Christ, seen in the form of the Carpenter, serving light lunches and their big booth is the accepted headquarters of the Shuberts' house.

The Fall Festival is responsible for one wonderful revival. There is tremendous travel by river, for the steamboat lines have made great concessions in the rates of passage. Ships and river boats that were ever dreamt of before. Railroads are also doing their share in the matter of excursion rates.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

DEATHS.

Mrs. R. D. Hunter died at her home in Clark county on Friday night of incipient paralysis.

A cablegram from Rev. Everett Gill, former pastor of the Mt. Sterling Baptist Church, who is now at Rome, Italy, announces the death of his little eight year old daughter, Geraldine. We extend sympathy to our former pastor and his dear wife.

Died,

At her home on Sycamore street, this city, Mrs. Druzila Rorne Lyle, widow of W. H. Lyle, died Sunday morning, August 26th, of general debility, aged 78 years.

Mrs. Lyle had been a widow for 24 years and a resident of this city for 25 years. During her widowhood her son Bush Lyle lived with her until his death and her daughter, Miss Anna, was her constant companion. From childhood she had been a member of the Methodist Church. Funeral service was conducted at the home Tuesday morning by pastor H. G. Turner. Burial in Macpelah, her grandsons acting as pallbearers. Mrs. Lyle was unassuming in character, humble, kind, appreciative, with a heart always in sympathy with the unfortunate and ready with word and hand to comfort and assist. She was a good Christian woman and has entered upon her reward.

Her daughter, Miss Anna, thus left alone has the sympathy of her hosts of friends.

County Convention of Sunday Schools of Christian Church.

On Tuesday, Aug. 21, there was a mass meeting of the Montgomery County Sunday Schools of the Christian Church at Peyton's Lick. The object was to effect a county organization. R. M. Hopkins, State Evangelist, was manager. Coleman Templeman, of Nicholasville, is much interested in the work was asked to preside and make a speech. Other speakers in the forenoon were R. M. Hopkins, B. W. Trimble, Clifton Prewitt, of Bethlehem, and Rev. R. N. Simpson, of Lexington.

Just before adjournment a severe rain came. Seats had been prepared under the oak trees. These were scattering. Most of the people found shelter in school house, church, buggies etc., but about 20 sought protection under the trees, some with, some without umbrellas. There was rain, much rain, rain in sheets.

Later those in charge of dinner began to open boxes and baskets and put on tables. Before they had progressed far the storm came again. Was so severe that no attempt was made to resume dinner. The neighbors had been very generous in supplying substantial and delicacies, much of which was not served. The writer, who had been caught by the first storm took refuge during the next in a buggy where he had a partial lunch, AFTERNOON.

During the continuance of the rain the program was resumed in the church and heard by those who had crowded in standing or sitting on floor, pulpit, or a few seats.

Miss Ida Delaney of Bethlehem, read paper "How to reach Children in Orphanless Homes." Speeches were made by G. D. Wyatt, pastor of the congregation, J. T. Highland, followed with a recitation by Miss Nannie Jones. The Misses Clarkes on mandolin and guitar gave sweet music.

The audience was orderly and attentive, the singing spirited. The attendance was 450 to 500.

Mr. Clif Prewitt said he could not speak; the audience knew that he is mistaken about that.

Quality Did It!

The fact that SCHNAPPS is so widely imitated only proves that it is the best chew—the standard flat plug. Other plugs are made to imitate the size and shape and color of SCHNAPPS—other tags are made to look like SCHNAPPS tags—yet there are more pounds of SCHNAPPS chewed annually than all other similar tobaccos.

Schnapps

SCHNAPPS is made of only choice selections of well matured, thoroughly cured leaf, and in factories as clean as the cleanest kitchen, situated in the very heart of the greatest chewing tobacco growing country, by men of life-long experience in tobacco manufacturing, and who have directed the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company since 1875.

SCHNAPPS has the pleasing, appetizing aroma which created and popularized the fondness for chewing. Expert tests prove that it requires and takes a smaller amount of sweetening than any other kind—and has a wholesome, stimulating and satisfying effect on chewers.

Internal revenue statistics show that SCHNAPPS and other of the Reynolds brands won enough chewers in one fiscal year to make a net gain of six and a quarter million pounds, or one-third of the entire increased consumption in the United States on chewing and smoking tobacco.

Be sure the letters on the tag and under the tag spell S-C-H-N-A-P-P-S, and you will have the genuine.

Kidney Troubles May Be Sapping Your Life Away. Mt. Sterling People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Here is Mt. Sterling testimony to prove it:

Samuel T. Greene, of Holt Ave., Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills were worth their weight in gold to me. That is my opinion and the following are my reasons. For a good many years I suffered with kidney trouble brought on I believe, by straining myself at heavy lifting. The dull aching across the small of my back and the sharp pains if I stooped or straightened, made life anything but pleasant to me. There was also a very annoying and distressing urinary difficulty particularly observable at night. I took all kinds of medicine supposed to be good for kidney trouble, and doctor'd a great deal, but without obtaining any noticeable benefit until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. The change the first box made in my condition was surprising and I continued the treatment by taking another, when all symptoms of disordered kidneys disappeared and I felt myself cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 60 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. 53¢.

When Is a Man Dead? Floresco claims to have brought back life to dogs whose hearts had stopped from 25 to 40 minutes. He applies electrodes directly to the heart, either on the outside or by needles to the inside of the ventricles. Danilewsky has started heart beats in a rabbit 24 hours after death and in the arricles three days after death. This he accomplished by perfusion of the heart by Locke's solution. Inhibition of this heart action can be brought about by applying electrodes at the root of the aorta. Locke and Roseheim perfused a heart that had been hanging in the laboratory for five days since its removal from the rabbit's body, and caused it to give beats of considerable amplitude. Howell, of Johns Hopkins, concluded from his experiments that inhibition of the heart depends on the presence of diffusible potassium compounds in the heart tissue, and that vagus impulses act indirectly by increasing the amount of potassium compounds of this character.

From the physiological standpoint, therefore, it looks as if the day may come when death will be cheated of its prey, and the heart forced to take up again the work that it has laid down. North American Journal of Homoeopathy.

If so, it will interest you to know that it can be stopped with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills; and without any bad after-effects, and thus without danger of forming a drug habit or ravaged. They positively control the pain of morphine, cocaine, chloral, ether or chloroform in any form. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain, and leave only a sense of relief. The reason for this is explained by the fact that headache comes from tired, irritable, turbulent, over-taxed brain nerves. Anti-Pain Pills soothe and strengthen these nerves, thus removing the cause. They are harmless when taken as directed.

"We use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for the relief of pain, and we think that there is nothing that will compare with them. For a severe spell of nervous pain, I have never seen anything like them. They are a nervous temperament, and occasionally I have spells when my nerves are too sensitive. I have had, and I tremble so I can scarcely control myself. I have to lie down, and then take the Anti-Pain Pills, and then I am right again. It is remarkable what a soothing effect they have upon the nerves."

W. H. Wilson, Detroit, Mich. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by the largest drug houses in the country. The manufacturer, Dr. Miles, tells, he will return your money if you are not satisfied. Price 25¢. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

BY FRANK H. MELOON.

(Copyright, 1904, by Daily Star, Co.) Miss Helen Spalter sat alone in the great farm house, which was her childhood's and her girlhood's home. There Helen had blossomed from a pale, anaemic girl to a young lady of astonishing beauty. This was not only Robert Heulin's idea regarding her present state, but it was that of all others as well. It is really not often one sees a bratette with just the right degree of plumpness, and just the right ideas regarding clothes and hair dressing. The only thing not enviable about Helen at the time best was her state of mind.

"What unlimited audacity Robert has!" she exclaimed to herself. "To think of his proposing to me while we were in the midst of a quarrel, and then to walk away with his head up in the air and his feet stamping down hard on the gravel, telling me he would never come back unless I sent for him! Of course he tried to be nice about it—that Robert's way—and said he didn't want to force his attentions on me if they were undesirable. And the worst of it is that he was her! Oh, he was so good and didn't get angry in the least, though I had lost all control of my temper. I—I guess"—here she choked down a sob—"I guess Robert is better off without a girl like me. I'm not half good enough for him. But I can't ever, ever send for him!"

At this stage in her musings, and self-remonstrations, Helen was startled by a face at the window—the face of a man evidently of the lowest criminal

HELEN WAS STARTLED BY A FACE AT THE WINDOW.

His growth of hair, the man's black beard was rough and uneven, and his eyes, small but piercing, were as ferocious as those of a treacherous swine. As the pane of glass next the window catch was shattered by a blow from a stick in the silence, Helen sprang to her feet, running and looking the door in.

With the readiness of the rural American to meet an emergency, she cast over in her mind the various expedients for driving the man away or securing help. The nearest house was that of Robert Heulin, a little over two miles away. The houses were connected by telephone through the central station at Rye, distant about four miles. Hastily she rang up Central, giving the call: "Two-ought-four, ring two." She heard the girl at the office make the connection and, while waiting with wildly beating heart for an answer, she heard sounds which indicated that the trap was climbing in through the window. At last there came the welcome "Hello!" through the telephone. It was the voice of Robert Heulin himself. Helen had somehow been certain that he would answer. Robert, she told herself, was always on hand to help her in any emergency. The afternoon's quarrel was forgotten. "Oh, Robert!" she cried, "come quick—there's a trap broken into the house and I am all alone!"

"Inside of three minutes, little girl!" he answered, and she knew that he had not even stopped to hang up the receiver, for she heard him run from the telephone and open a door which did not shut again.

Helen had extinguished the light, turning thewick down into the kerosene so that the trap was unable to relight it. She heard him swearing frightful oaths at the fruitless endeavor, and then he was audible trying his way about with the aid of an occasional match, and trying several doors, which he burst open with more or less difficulty, only to find that she was not within. Vainly the girl at that moment longed for that five-chaired weapon which puts the weak on equal footing with the strong; she even remembered that Robert had often besought her to indulge in target practice, but that, unlike some girls, she had no inherent fear of weapons, yet had neglected to act on his advice. Robert's advice, she now thought, was always for the best.

The girl believed the three minutes must be almost up, but she knew well that no horse could make the distance in the given time, though it was down grade all the way. How was it then that Robert intended to come? Was it possible, she wondered, with a quick inspiration, that Robert's long expected touring car had been delivered? He had learned to chauffeur the previous summer, while visiting his cousin in the city, so she thought it was not unlikely that the automobile had arrived and that Robert was on his way in to render her aid. The thought lent her fresh courage.

The country girl is almost invariably a clever guesser, and Helen had hit upon the true solution of how Robert Heulin expected to reach the Spalter farm in three minutes. Even as she heard the intruder coming toward her door, cursing as he stumbled over a misplaced footstool, there was a grind of wheels on gravel, and he uttered an exclamation of dismay.

When the tramp had got downstairs, Helen's courage was still further revived and, fearing that her rescuer might be injured in an encounter with him, she ran to a front window in time to see Robert spring from the automobile.

"Where is he?" he cried. "Around that way," she called out, pointing to the side of the house opposite to that which the tramp had entered. She reckoned on his going as he had come, and in that case Robert would be in no danger. And so it happened that the ruffian intruder escaped into the nearby woods, scot-free.

To Robert Heulin the ride to the girl's old had seemed hours. Through the night the heavy car had torn its way the mud splashing many feet to either side; the wayside elms and the quarter mile of Lombardy poplars had lined up for a brief moment, then had dropped behind. The mill bridge with shaking timbers, and the Four Forks crossroads had been left behind, and the headless farm house and the girl he loved—her life in danger.

Of course Helen opened the door and thanked Robert for his timely assistance.

"I sent for you!" she hinted.

He thought her remark ironical.

"Yes," he responded, "but I will go as soon as your folks return. You see, I would not take advantage of your sending for me in that way."

"Why," she responded, with apparent innocence, and he never knew how much she then humbled her pride before the man she loved so well, "I was thinking of telephoning for you anyway!"

There were circumstances under which the only possible reply to such an explanation is a kiss.

A Good Movement.

The retail merchants of Shelbyville and Shelby county have formed a protective association to give mutual information and assistance in protecting themselves from unreliable persons who seek credit and then evade payment. An association of this character if lived up to in good faith would save the merchants hundreds of dollars annually and incidentally would be of a benefit to those who pay their bills promptly.

A Large Contract.

When W. S. Lloyd the enterprising druggist, first offered a 50 cent package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, he thought it probable from his experience with other medicines for these diseases, that he would have a good many packages returned. But although he had sold hundreds of bottles, not one has been brought back.

This is so surprising that he has taken the contract to introduce Dr. Howard's specific in at least half the homes in Mt. Sterling, and to do that he will continue his half price introductory offer.

W. S. Lloyd wants every person in Mt. Sterling who has constipation, dyspepsia, headaches or liver trouble to come to his store and get 50 doses of the best medicine ever made at half the regular price, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

The month of July was generally seasonable. There was never a better prospect for a full crop of corn at this season of the year. The condition is all that could be expected. The wheat crop is generally in good condition, up to the average and the quality good.

The oat crop was short and yield three-fourths. The prospects for Burley tobacco is below the average and not up to the standard. The prospect for Dark is below the average. Meadows, pastures and clover are in fair condition. Live stock of all kinds in good condition and free from diseases. Hogs are scarce in localities.

The apple crop is light and there is considerable complaint of many falling off before they mature.
